New London Gets Game at Windham

Field, 6 to 2—Parade Headed by the Band.

President Dunn's Cots were checked in their winning streak Saturday afternoon on Windham field and lost their first game before the banner crowd of the season, fully 1,000 persons witnessing the great baseball contest.

Hammy Wheeler showed themselves to be a pretty finished aggregation of ball players and constituted a well balanced line of players, of the standard order that were equal to the league team. The score being tied up in most instances, and the seven innings was that one which was being tied up by New London in their half of the season at 2-2.

The business men of the town, perhaps realize more than ever that city has a public spirited mayor.

The game was played Saturday under adverse weather conditions in getting Wheeler's American band and having it parade through the main street at the score of 6 to 2. The game also been fixed up in good shape, playing a few minutes of music and rendering a few inspiring selections on the grounds, should in the minds of the city and town, at heart be content to make them loosen up a little and get going in the game. At any moment it looked as though it would rain, and only for the fact that it did not rain, the game pastor, Rev. W. S. Beard, talked on the City Beautiful. The congregation included Mayor D. Dunn, members of the common council and other officials, who attended in response to an invitation extended by the pastor to unite with the regular congregation in the observance of what was termed

"City day."

Rev. Mr. Beard's talk was very interesting and he expressed many ideas that might well be carried out with reference to the city of Willimantic that would conform with the theme of the inspiring talk.

at 2 o'clock when the pastor themed How One Town Solved the Problem. This service was also well attended.
